Teachings of Fire

- Live by the flame. Live by creation and by light. Fire may seem destructive, but it is used to heal and to shine light upon dark days.
 - Throughout the campaign, the player will learn that Fire, contrary to expectations, was considered one of the most peaceful elements. Fire created times of peace and harmony. People found rest within themselves by worshipping it and by understanding the creation of fire and how to wield it.
 - This system is inspired by Avatar. Each element will have its own culture, teachings, fighting style (possibly represented in combat animations), and costumes that the player learns throughout the campaign.

This provides four different settings for the quests tied to each element and offers a fresh take on unlocking more power from each element.
